Dear Haydn,

Congratulations on your success in being in the top 20% of schools nationally for value-added, which has qualified you for an SSAT 2014 Educational Outcome award.

Please find enclosed your certificate. We hope that you will feel proud of your achievements, which are a testament to the hard work of your students, staff and leadership team.

SSAT is committed to enabling and inspiring a collaborative network of schools, with students at the centre, to drive our education system towards world class. As an award winner, I hope you will feel confident to share your high standards of practice with other schools.

One of the most exciting ways to do this is to apply to present a workshop at the SSAT National Conference on 4-5 December in Manchester. This year's theme is The Learner – how we can deliver a personalised, future-oriented education for every child. We're looking for workshops on innovative strategies that have truly impacted on student outcomes, and we'd be especially delighted for the workshops to be delivered by students and their teachers.

Successful applicant schools receive free entry for one staff member and two students on Friday 5 December, and can access generous discounts to attend the rest of the conference. Applications close on 11 July – visit www.ssatuk.co.uk/nationalconference2014 to find out more and download your application form.

Look out for the next instalments in our Redesigning Schooling campaign – Redesigning Schooling – 7: Professional accountability, by Peter Matthews, and Redesigning Schooling – 8: Principled assessment design, by Dylan Wiliam – coming into member schools in the next few weeks. The campaign provides an inspiring framework to help you think differently about what schooling can mean.

With best wishes,

Sue Williamson
